Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Eight

Upon this occasion, when the Province of Saskatchewan, for the first time has the honor of having assembled in its Capital City of Regina the delegates of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women in its annual convention, it is with pleasure that I avail myself of the opportunity of extending to them an official welcome, and of expressing the hope that their stay in our Province may prove a delightful and successful one.

May I assure them that the Business and Professional Women of Saskatchewan will ever cultivate and preserve fraternal associations and friendly relations with those of the other Provinces, thus making for unity, harmony and strength of purpose, so essential to Canadian progress and prosperity.

Yours faithfully,

THE HON. J. M. UHRICH, M.D.,
Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan.

I wish to thank you for this opportunity of welcoming all the delegates of the Canadian Business and Professional Women's Clubs from across Canada to Regina for this convention.

I think it is obvious that women are now sharing equal responsibilities with men in the important decisions which have to be made in order that we may live in peace and prosperity. I have no doubt that the deliberations which will be carried on at your Convention will be of national importance. I am happy that Regina has been chosen as the venue for the Convention this year, and I hope that the calm and quiet of this City of the Plains will assist the delegates in making decisions which will be important to all business and professional women.

Yours very truly,

MAYOR H. MCGILLIVRAY.

MISS MARGARET P. HYNDMAN, K.C.
President

President's Message

Our Eleventh Biennial Convention, which so many of us have worked and planned for during the past two years, is here. The joy of meeting friends, old and new in the Federation, is ours again, and the opportunity to discuss common projects and problems is ever a pleasure and a thrill. Let us make the best of our few days together, our brief chance to talk together and to get to know one another, without the ever-present disadvantage of miles between, which the written word sometimes only increases.

The arrangements for the Convention have cost much in time and energy: it's up to us to make it worth while!

MARGARET HYNDMAN,

President.

MISS RUTH MCGILL, LL.B.
First Vice-President

MISS SALLY BUTLER
President International Federation

MRS. NORA ARNOLD
*First President, Prince Rupert Club
Mayor, Prince Rupert, B.C.*

Chosen as "The Woman of the Year" by the Clubs in Canadian Federation.

MRS. IRENE CAMPBELL
President, Regina Club

It is with a thrill of pride and pleasure that the members of the Regina Business and Professional Women's Club extend greetings to you at this, the first National Convention of the Federation ever to be held in the Province of Saskatchewan.

To those of you who may be seeing the prairies for the first time, may our vast fields of waving grain and our wide open spaces help interpret to you the "Spirit of the West"

Representing, as we do, so many parts of a country as geographically diversified as Canada, this Convention should be able to bring a well-balanced opinion to bear on the many serious problems confronting thinking people today. World conditions call for sane and tolerant thought and actions and so, in all our deliberations, may we be granted "willing hands, open minds, and understanding hearts"

We are glad to see you, our welcome to you all is as warm as our sunshine, as glowing as our beautiful western sunsets, and as boundless as our far-reaching horizons.

- PRINCE ALBERT NATIONAL PARK—Saskatchewan's greatest holiday attraction, is a vast timber-covered area interlaced with gorgeous lakes and streams. Here, the main recreation centre is on Lake Waskesiu, 70 miles north of Prince Albert. Huts, accommodation, bungalow camps and extensive camping grounds are available as well as facilities for a wide variety of sports including tennis, golf, sailing and canoeing.
- CYPRESS HILLS—In the southwest corner of the province, provides a resort hidden in heavily-wooded country where two lakes and a nine hole golf course offer ample sporting facilities. Comfortable cabins and a main lodge at Cypress Hills provide accommodation.
- KENOSEE—Near Moose Mountain Provincial Park, is also set in holiday forest land. Within easy reach of lake and golf course is a stone-faced chalet built in Elizabethan style offering easy holiday comfort. Nearby Carlyle Lake, situated a few miles southeast of Kenossee, is also a popular resort.
- KATEPWE—Situated in the unique Qu'Appelle Valley, is one of the more popular resorts in the southern part of the province. Set on the shore of one of the long narrow Qu'Appelle Lakes, Katepwe has first-class facilities for swimming, boating and a well laid out golf course which puts a premium on accuracy.
- In the north two provincial parks have been opened comparatively recently, one at Lac la Ronge the other at Nipawin. These we have a strong appeal to those who prefer to holiday in more primitive surroundings.

You'll like Saskatchewan. You'll love its parks and lakes, fishing and hunting, golf and boating. But most of all, you'll love Saskatchewan's people. These are the things that are in store for you on your summer vacation in Saskatchewan.

REGINA, Capital City of Saskatchewan Established in 1882.
Centre of the Bread Basket of the World Home of the Mounties.

In the early 70's the gathering point for Indians and Metis returning from buffalo hunts in southern valleys, and going to their homes in the beautiful Qu'Appelle Valley Sitting Bull, Sioux Chief, returning to the Wood Mountain Country from the Qu'Appelle Valley, camped on Wascana Creek in 1881.

In June 1882 Lieut. Governor Dewdney of the North West Territories, issued a proclamation establishing the locality then known as "Pile O' Bones" (Pur O' Bones) is a translation of an Indian word "Owacana" and designated a hollow on the banks of Wascana Creek. In this hollow, the Indians had annually arranged in religious rites thousands of buffalo bones.

Here also, in 1882, the first passenger train over the Canadian Pacific Railway reached the end of the steel. The following year, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll and wife of the then Governor General of Canada named the locality Regina in honor of her beloved Mother, Queen Victoria. That same year (1883) Regina was by order-in-council established as the capital of the North West Territories and the headquarters of the Royal North West Mounted Police. (Now Royal Canadian.)

In 1885 the North West Rebellion broke out, and Louis Riel, leader of the uprising was found guilty of treason and paid the penalty with his life.

In 1903 Regina was incorporated as a city and in 1905 was made the capital of the new Province of Saskatchewan. A cairn commemorating the formation of this province now stands in Victoria Park.

The Provincial Legislative Buildings were erected on the south bank of the Wascana which had been dammed back to make Wascana Lake. Landscaping of the grounds round the Legislative Buildings which had formerly been bald prairie was undertaken. Beautiful churches, schools, public buildings and homes were erected to meet the requirements of the growing community. Unfortunately some of these buildings now bear an inscription. Destroyed and rebuilt 1912, for tragedy struck on a Sunday afternoon when a cyclone destroyed a large strip of the city. It took but a short time to rebuild however and before the First World War Regina was gaining momentum daily in all phases of development.

Among the outstanding events in the life of this city could be mentioned the World's Grain Show in 1953, which was attended by over 198,000 persons.

A cenotaph stands in the centre of Victoria Park in memory of those who fell in World War I. Three swimming pools located at strategic points in the city are a memorial to those who served in the Second World Conflict.

Out of the foundation outlined in this brief history, Regina has progressed phenomenally in the construction of a solid city, in the arts in creditable piles of stone in Governmental and Commercial buildings in beautiful parks and homes which are the personal pride of the 65,000 inhabitants of Regina, QUEEN CITY OF THE PLAINS.
